

Call For Papers

The OWASP Italy and the University of Udine Italy would like to announce a call for papers for OWASP Day 2019 Italy to be held September 27, 2019. This will be a free, one day, informal conference, aimed at increasing awareness and knowledge of application security. The conference is intended to appeal to application security professionals, professional software developers, software quality engineers and computer science students. The conference goal is to stimulate interest in the application and software security practice/initiatives within organizations, improve application security through secure coding, threat modeling and security testing. Special topics of interest for this conference are cloud security and security emerging technologies like blockchain and cryptocurrencies. We encourage local students, security professionals and academics to present papers as a way to gain exposure and experience in presenting at security conferences. OWASP Italy solicits contributions on the above topics of interest.

Submission Rules
